

NYPATH (New York Promoting and Advancing Teen Health), Physicians for Reproductive Health, and the New York City STD Prevention Training Center are pleased to announce an upcoming webinar entitled:

“Optimizing Engagement, Linkage to Care, Treatment, and Retention for Youth Living With or at Risk for HIV”

The webinar is designed for clinicians who provide healthcare services to adolescents and young adults. Specific objectives include:

1. To review risk factors contributing to HIV infection among youth.
2. To review strategies designed to improve engagement, linkage to care, treatment and retention.
3. To identify strategies designed to reduce HIV infection among high-risk youth.

Date: Wednesday, September 16, 2015

Time: 12:00-1:00 PM EST

Speaker: Alwyn Cohall, MD, Professor of Clinical Public Health & Pediatrics, Columbia University Medical Center, Mailman School of Public Health
Medical Director, NYC STD/HIV Prevention Training Center
Director, Project STAY (Services to Assist Youth)

To Register go to: <https://prh.adobeconnect.com/hivpositiveyouth/event/registration.html>

CMEs Available At No Cost

CME: The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME®) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity

CNE: The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is accredited as a provider of Continuing Nursing Education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation. This activity provides 1 contact hour.

This flyer was developed with funding provided by the NYS Department of Health, Bureau of Maternal & Child Health, Division of Family Health, C-027009 to Columbia University HDPFH. Its contents are solely the responsibility of Columbia University HDPFH and do not necessarily represent the official views of the New York State Department of Health.